None of the art of record teaches the recited a game control unit being configured to control a game progress by executing the acts of claim 1. In particular, none of the art whether taken alone or in combination can be said to teach or suggest a game control unit being configured to control a game progress by executing the acts of displaying at least four disappearance positions at outer areas on the display screen such that an inner area on the display screen is surrounded by the plurality of disappearance positions and displaying a plurality of command marks on the display screen, which are blown out one after the other from a position in said inner area in concert with a rhythm of music, wherein each of the blown-out command marks moves from the appearance position toward one of said disappearance positions, along with the rest of the claimed limitations. Claim 45 depends from claim 44 and is allowable along with claim 44.

Furthermore, because independent claims 47, 49, 52 and 61-64 also recite similar limitations as set forth above. The art fails to teach or suggest their subject matter as well.
